Caitlin Weber, Policy Analyst, Conservancy of Southwest Florida, spoke to oil extraction and Home Rule authority, including extraction techniques; risk and impacts; State law; 2015 and 2016 Oil and Gas Regulatory Bills; and zoning never addressed by the State.

Discussion followed and Ms. Weber agreed to research whether the previous owners of land in the communities to the east of Estero reserved mineral rights when they sold; the availability of a map of Estero indicating mineral rights; and whether there were any historic wells in Estero. Ray Judah, Coordinator for the Florida Coastal and Ocean Coalition, spoke to the impacts that fracking would have to the water system.

Phil Douglas, The Brooks - Lighthouse Bay resident and member of ECCL, believed it would be helpful for Estero to take a position on fracking.

Council discussion ensued regarding scheduling the topic of fracking for a Council workshop. Consensus was to allow time to receive information from the Village Attorney and Ms. Weber, prior to scheduling for a Council workshop.

(B) Proclamation: Million Mile Movement (Councilmember Errington)

(C) Discussion: Establishing the Village of Estero False Alarm Ordinance (Village Manager)

Village Manager Lombardi explained that, prior to incorporation, the residents were covered under the Lee County false alarm ordinance and noted that the Sheriff's office requested that Estero adopt their own ordinance. He also noted that all the other cities in Lee County had a similar ordinance. He indicated that first reading of the ordinance would be on the October 7, 2015 Council meeting agenda.

Mayor Batos called for public comment and on one came forward.

(D) Discussion: Village Council 2016 Meeting Schedule (Village Manager)

Village Manager Lombardi provided suggested meeting dates for next year. Mayor Batos noted that the proposed schedule called for two meetings per month. Discussion ensued regarding allowing enough time for decision meetings; zoning hearings; vacation time and FLC conference attendance; daytime meetings rather than nighttime meetings; December meetings; the 7-day lead time for agenda preparation; and meeting every Wednesday, January through June. The meeting schedule would come back to Council at the September 23, 2015 special meeting.

(E) Discussion: Resolution Authorizing the Investment of Village Surplus Funds in the Local Government Trust Fund (Village Manager)

Village Manager Lombardi explained that Florida Statute Ch. 218 required an investment policy for the Village's idol funds; there were certain types of investments that were permitted, one of which was the Local Government Surplus Trust Fund administered by the State of Florida. Councilmember Ribble noted that, in preparation of a November Florida League of Cities meeting, he would be gathering information regarding future key issues for the Village. Brief discussion ensued.
